Health Conditions That May Affect Funding Advantage Pricing

When working with small group level-funded plans, it's crucial to consider conditions that can impact costs and plan feasibility.

Allied National's "Red List" outlines medical conditions that may affect Funding Advantage underwriting, potentially raising premiums or making the plan less suitable.

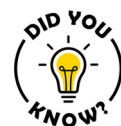

The following conditions should be carefully considered when reviewing a small group application:

- AIDS or ARC
- Active cancer (currently in treatment)
- Cirrhosis
- Cystic Fibrosis
- Hemophilia
- Hodgkin's or Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma
- Kidney Dialysis
- Leukemia
- Muscular Dystrophy
- Organ or Tissue Transplant
- Current Renal Failure
- Present Tuberculosis

Please contact your General Agent or Allied Sales Support at sales@alliednational.com if you have any questions.
